

KENTUCKY CORN FARMERS

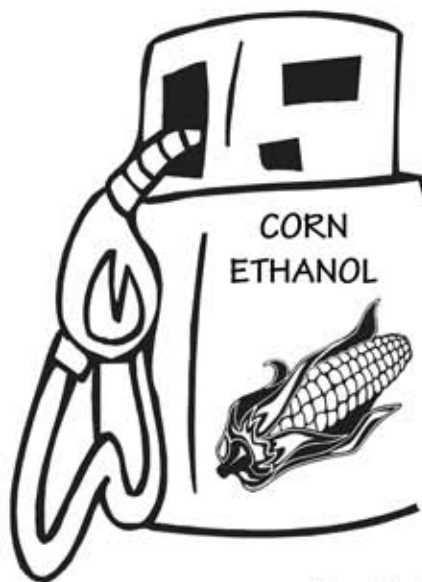

grow food, feed, fuel & fiber

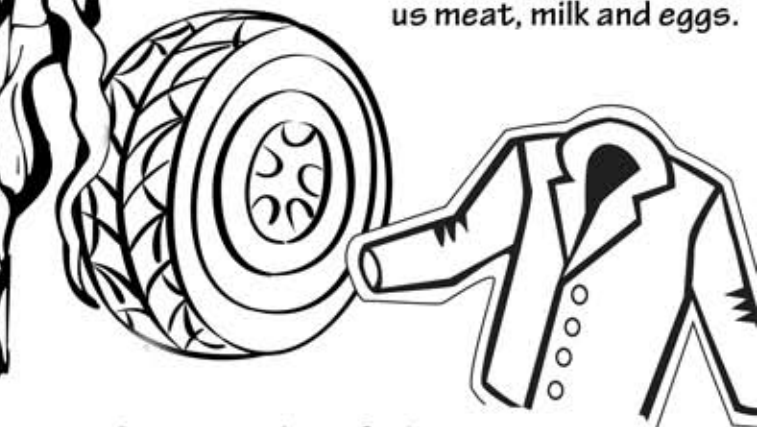

Corn can be found in many food items at the grocery store.

Most of the corn grown is fed to animals. These animals provide us meat, milk and eggs.

Ethanol, a fuel for cars and trucks, can be made from corn. Using ethanol helps the environment and allows us to use less oil from other countries.

Scientists keep finding new ways to use corn such as in tires, clothing, food containers, carpets, and candy wrappers.